

C in review

DESTINATION ITALY!

Always wanted to tie the knot in a Venetian gondola or say your vows in a romantic Tuscan private chapel? Sydney-based company, Marry Me Abroad, can make your dreams come true by helping Australian couples wed in Italy. They offer a unique international wedding service where no detail is left unturned, leaving you only to enjoy your special day and soak up all the romance.

Having worked in Europe, India and Bali, Deyan has the experience and a good eye to capture flavour of a destination wedding, creating beautiful and memorable images that have won him many accolades throughout his career.

Deyan Grujovic of Deyan Photography will be travelling to Italy in September next year for an exclusive month of shooting for Marry Me Abroad.

For more information, contact Marry Me Abroad on 1300 553 573 or 0404 238 591 (after hours). You can also visit their website at www.marrymeabroad.com

image © Deyan Photography

MANUELL & MC FROCK ROCKS

When it comes to frocks, there's only one Melbourn rocks! Helen Manuell of Manuell & Moore won the 2005 Brownlow Medal Awards held at the Crow Judged by the Herald Sun, Helen took home the gowns. The winning number was a chill red silk satin that had a deep back and a massive pleated train. Luke Ball of the St Kilda Football Club, had the honor and she looked absolutely stunning. Helen also he which ended up taking longer to do than the dress completed Amy's look, and she was a hit on the red do anything too revealing but rather something elegant from the crowd," says Helen. Inspired by the 1930s, to make and Amy came in to discuss the style of the I wanted red on her." Turn to page 272 and find out her fabulous designs.

PIECE OF CAKE

Today, the wedding cake comes in all shapes, sizes and colours in a provocative range of flavours. At your reception, it's a symbol of good luck, but did you know back in the day, the wedding cake took on

- In Victorian times, the tradition of breaking the cake over the bride's head was believed to promote fertility. They would place a piece of the cake under their pillow believing that they would dream of their future husband.